

ART DUJOUR

VAL'S VIEW

The Pumpkin Time of Year is Upon Us!

Summer may have snuck by us quickly this year, but Autumn is right around the corner!

Brisk nights, hot apple cider and PUMPKINS! Every year the Boston Common Frog Pond is home to hundreds of illuminated, glowing Jack-O-Lanterns! Visitors and attendees of the festival are encouraged to BYOP. Bring Your Own Pumpkin! The carved pumpkins will be illuminated and placed on mini rafts to float around the pond. The festival will take place October 17th, and will be a fun packed event for the whole family. For more information visit bostonfrogpond.com. Photo Credit to Kevin Ma

ROSE KENNEDY GREENWAY

Nine local designers have contributed custom patterns to "Pattern Walk," an outdoor art installation now on view at the Harbor Garage along the Greenway. Prints of the patterns, each tackling a different theme, have been wrapped around pillars featured on the garage's Atlantic Avenue facade. ### THE CERAMICS PROGRAM

Office for the arts at Harvard is proud to present the work of our 2014-15 Artist In Residence Jessica Brandl in Gallery 224 at 224 Western Avenue, Allston, MA. "Wishful Thinking" - Jessica Brandl celebrates the great talent of ceramic artist Jessica Brandl as she completes her 2014-2015 residency at the Ceramics Program, Office for the Arts at Harvard. Brandl's work references objects and images from museum collections to create a dialog with the present. Her most recent work involves 3D scanning and virtual modeling of historic objects in order to link past craftspeople to present day craft production. Exhibition: Tuesday, August 18th - Friday, October 16th, 2015 Reception: Saturday, September 5th, 5pm - 8pm Gallery Hours: Monday - Friday, 10am - 6pm <http://ofa.fas.harvard.edu/ceramics/gallery224.php>

The fourth annual Flying Horse Outdoor Sculpture Exhibit will feature the works of 25 New England artists, including Nancy Schon who created "Make Way for Ducklings" in Boston Garden and is the Honorary Chair of the exhibit this year. The works will be displayed on the 100-acre campus of Pingree School. The show, which is free and open to the public seven days a week during daylight hours, will include an indoor memorial exhibit of the works of Beverly Seaman and a reception with the artists on Sunday, September 8 at 3 p.m. An award-winning sand sculptor will be creating a sculpture during the first week of the exhibit, from Tuesday to Saturday, in front of the school. For more information, go to www.pingree.org or call 978-468-4415 ext. 233.

Fall 2015 Concert Season at the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum on the Fenway. Music has been an integral part of the Gardner experience ever since the Museum opened in 1903 with a celebration that featured a performance by members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Order your tickets for our fall 2015 concert season. This season features three concert series: The Gardner's popular Sunday Concert Series presents classical chamber music on Sunday afternoons, featuring performances by renowned musicians alongside outstanding emerging artists. With Stir the Museum's most innovative and experimental art forms converge for an entirely unique experience each time. And new this year is RISE, curated by Shea Rose and Simone Scazzocchio, the series will feature pop, rock, and hip-hop artists.

Art Dujour is brought to you by Its All About Arts, a television show on Boston Neighborhood Network Television with host Glenn Williams and co-host Valerie Eliason. The show features local artists both visual and performing and art administrators. Watch on BNNLive - Comcast 9 or RCN 15 or streamed live on bnntv.org. Mondays from 6-7 pm.
